

HISTORY OPEN HOUSE

AT DELANCO TOWNSHIP

770 Coopertown Road, Delanco, NJ

Saturday, March 16, 2024; 1pm – 3 pm

HOSTED BY THE DELANCO HISTORY BOARD

The Lenni Lenape of the Rancocas Watershed

Before the Dutch, Swedes, and English Quakers, our region was populated by peaceful indigenous peoples for many thousands of years.

Most recently, in the Woodland Period, the Lenni Lenape camped, hunted, fished and farmed along the shores of the Rancocas Creek.

Our Delanco farmers and their children have been collecting artifacts in our fields and forests for hundreds of years.

Come to see items from the collection of John Burk, whose family farmed along the creek in the early 1900s.

If you have some artifacts, bring them to be photographed and share.

The Delanco Township History Board announces the second in a series of open held in the atrium of the Delanco Township Building on the third Saturday of each month from 1 to 3pm. Free public access to historical displays; Free publications; Discuss Delanco history with members of the board.

Current displays: Lenni Lenape of the Rancocas, Doing Business in Delanco.

Come and share your memories and learn about the history of our early planned community. Delanco military veteran? Register for the Delanco Military Veterans honor roll.
