

Zurbrugg Centennial Project wins award from Burlington County

Congratulations to former HPAB Chair, Joe Busler; Riverside Historical Society President, Alice Smith; and the whole Zurbrugg Centennial Committee from 2011 for their award from Burlington County this past week. They were nominated jointly in the History Projects category.

Awards were presented by John Smith, Director of the Burlington County Parks Department at a ceremony held in the garden at Smithville Mansion. Approximately 100 people attended the awards reception.

Other awards winners included Delran Historical Society for their Historic Marker Trail project, Riverfront Historical Society for their new Beverly Museum, The NJ Colonial Dames and staff of Peachfield Plantation for their innovative History Summer Camp program; Palmyra Historical & Cultural Society, and others.

On behalf of Delanco HPAB and all the members of the Burlington County Historians, thanks to Marisa Bozarth, Eric Orange and her crew from the Parks Department for a job well-done. It was wonderful to learn about all the projects being done around the county to celebrate our history and our culture.

Details and additional photos of the event can be found on the Burlington County Historians Facebook page and the Burlington County Parks Department website: <http://www.co.burlington.nj.us/235/Parks>

If you haven't seen a copy of the magazine published by Peter Silverberg for the event, it is now posted on the Delanco Township website under Community History:
